Summary: The Perrie Leizear House had architectural significance as an example of a late nineteenth century vernacular I-house. However, the building has undergone so many alterations that it no longer illustrates the defining characteristics of this house type.

Built around 1870, the structure is a central hall I-house with an ell addition. This house type, three bays in width, with an orderly symmetrical facade and vertical massing and broad central hallway was a dwelling type commonly built by Montgomery County's affluent farmers in this period. This house no longer retains sufficient integrity of design or materials to convey any architectural or historical significance.¹

Chain of Title/Owner Information:

The Perrie Leizear House was probably built by Samuel Leizear around 1870 when he purchased a nine and one-half acre parcel for $250 that was once a part of the historic land grant "Snowden's Manor Enlarged." In the following year, Leizear purchased an additional six and three quarter acres from Andrew and Margaret Harding for $300. The house and modest farmstead were sold for $725 soon after Samuel Leizear's death in 1875 by a court appointed trustee to Elizabeth Leizear for the benefit of his widow Rebecca and their seven children. Elizabeth Leizear was the wife of county sheriff Perrie Leizear for whom the house has traditionally been named. The Leizears sold the property in 1880 to Thomas Moore for $700. Moore resided in the house for nearly twenty years before selling the house in 1898. After being bought and sold by numerous owners, Elsie and William Briggs settled into the residence between 1918 and 1955. The current owners are Nicholas and Areti Perantonakis.

Endnotes

¹ The date of construction has been estimated from map and land record research conducted by Catherine Crawford for the "Perrie Leizear House," MHT Form (8/83). The property was purchased in 1870 and no structure appeared on Martinet and Bond's "Map of Montgomery County" (1865). A building does appear on the site on G. M. Hopkins's "Atlas of Fifteen Miles Around Washington" (1879).

Prepare both a summary paragraph of significance and a general statement of history and support.

The Perrie Leizear house, though significantly altered, is significant as an example of rural vernacular architecture typical of that constructed in Montgomery County from the mid-nineteenth through the early twentieth centuries. The house was probably built by Samuel Leizear about 1870.¹ Samuel had purchased 9 1/2 acres of a tract of land referred to as "Snowden's Manor Enlarged" in June of 1870, from the Tyson family for $285.² In April of 1871, he purchased an additional 6 3/4 acres from Andrew and Margaret Harding for $300.³ Samuel died in 1875 leaving a widow, Rebecca, and seven children. Because the property was not susceptible to division, it was sold by a court appointed trustee to Elizabeth Leizear, the wife of Perrie Leizear, for $725.⁴ Perrie was the area's sheriff.

Elizabeth and Perrie sold the house in March of 1880 to Thomas Moore for $700.⁵ After Moore sold it in 1898, the house passed through a succession of owners. It was owned for 37 years by Elsie and William Briggs (from 1918 till 1955).⁶ The house is presently owned by Nicholas and Areti Perantonakis and houses a television repair shop.⁷ However, due to alterations to the exterior of the house, it has failed to maintain its architectural integrity.

¹The date given is based on the date that the land was purchased and the fact that it appears on the 1878 map (but not on the 1865 map)
